Andrea has a passion for finding the right person for the right job. With 15 years of HR management experience at small companies, she brings extensive recruiting skills along with a broad generalist background. She helped grow one of her past companies from 40 employees to over 100 and has worked closely with business owners and management teams to administer all day-to-day HR functions as well as resolve complex human resources issues. Well-versed in employee benefits management, compensation, legal compliance, and employee relations, Andrea is ready and excited for new challenges as the internal Human Resources Manager for Growth Operators.

Andrea's primary responsibilities are recruiting, managing benefits, HRIS, legal compliance and workplace policies, and building out best practices as our firm grows.
