Molly knows the importance of excellent client service. Her early career in public accounting and the experience of founding and running her own business honed Molly's aptitude for delivering great solutions and generating ongoing client satisfaction.

Molly joined Growth Operators as a Growth Pro in 2012. Over the next several years, her work became the standard of excellence for Growth Operators' unique client service model. Molly became our Director of Client Services in 2019. She focuses her efforts on recruiting and developing our Growth Pros and enhancing our ever-evolving suite of proprietary tools to continually raise the bar in our client service delivery. Molly also serves on our leadership team to drive the overall strategic direction of our firm.

Prior to joining Growth Operators, Molly spent eight years in various accounting and finance staff and management roles at Arthur Andersen and Target Corporation. Molly spent the next several years as an entrepreneur, founding and running her own boutique services business.
